This table is for reference purposes only. It aims to provide food ideas for children based on texture selection. As an example, if you notice that your child only eats foods that require less chewing, such as crispy and/or soft-textured food, then you could try to slowly introduce alternatives. To start with, try alternative foods that have similar smells and tastes to his/her current food liking, such as replacing potato crisps with rice chips. Increased food exposure might help to expand the familiarity of 'new' foods for your child. However, never give up on introducing new foods!
